Report on Special Lecture on "Anti-Ragging & Student Safety Programme"

About the program:

Nawada Vidhi Mahavidyalaya organized a Special Lecture on topic "Anti-Ragging & Student Safety Programme" for newly admitted students of the year 2023. The country passed new legislation prohibiting ragging because it has grown to be a threat, a cause of fear and shock for newcomers. Creating a campus environment where students can pursue their studies free from intimidation, humiliation, or harm is our top concern at Ishan, as ragging poses a serious threat to students' physical and emotional well-being. Therefore, the programme was designed to educate students on the laws in the nation about ragging and how they impact the lives of those who are victimized by it.

Objective:

The programme aims to educate and sensitize the students about the consequences of ragging and encourage them to actively prevent and report any such incident. With the help of such programmes every student is made aware of the college's codes of conduct, anti-ragging measures, and discipline standards.

Planning and responsibilities:

1. The students were informed about the lecture by way of a notice.
2. A poster for the lecture was released informing the students about the details.
3. The speakers for the lecture were invited.

Guest	Prof. Dr.AjayKumar , Mr Manan Kumar Mishra

Objective:

The main objective of this seminar is to present the preface of the seminar topic before the students and research scholars as the judicial activism is considered as the most important power of Supreme Court is the power of Judicial Review. In particular the review power means that the Judiciary can interpret the constitution and the laws passed by the legislature. If the court arrives at the conclusion that the law is inconsistent with the provisions of the constitution such a law is declared as unconstitutional and inapplicable. Judicial Activism may be defined as dynamic process of judicial outlook in a changing society. Judicial Activism is all about providing a good governance and ensuring the safety, security and welfare of the society.
